

Ribboncutting marks end of beginning

BELLE GLADE—An end of a beginning will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. Saturday when a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the north end of Hillsboro Canal bridge on Main Street marks the official opening of the first four phases of the SR 80 four-laning project.

Canal Hazards Safety Committee Chairman Marvin Unwin, who is coordinating the ceremony with committee member Duncan Padgett, said the theme of the activity isn't as a dedication but, "to stir up interest in construction of the relocated 80 east of Hooker Highway."

Unwin said beginning the 13 mile stretch of new four laned highway east from the Palm Beach County Glades

Office Building to US 98 west of 20 Mile Bend is the most important job now facing the Canal Hazards Safety Committee.

But to celebrate the end of the first four projects of widening SR 80, from South Bay to Belle Glade and from Belle Glade to Hooker Highway, the committee is sponsoring a ribbon-cutting at the Main Street Bridge, with speakers and guests expected from over a good portion of South-east Florida.

Among the guests and speakers will be State Representatives Tom Lewis and Bill James, representatives from the Belle Glade and South Bay City Commissions and the Pahokee City Council.

Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Jewel Crane, in charge of sending invitations, also said one of the speakers will be County Commissioner Bill Bailey. The county commission will also be represented by Dennis Koehler.

Leading the delegation from the Florida Department of Transportation will be District Engineer William Fowler while the Florida Highway Patrol will be represented by Capt. W. B. Oliver, commander of Troop L in West Palm Beach, and Sgt. George A. Price, subdistrict commander in

Field reduced from 6 to 4 in South Bay

SOUTH BAY—A few more than half the city's voters turned out Tuesday to set a new election day, try out new voting equipment and narrow down the field of city commission candidates from six to four in two races which will be decided in a double runoff next Tuesday.

Thomas P. Adams needed only two more votes in the Group One race to win without a runoff but Wilbur Ray Sullivan narrowed Adams' lead from a clear win before the absentee ballots were counted and held on just enough for force a runoff.

In the Group Two race, incumbent Billy G. Wells won a clear plurality in a less tightly fought race but must still face

Doris Sanford Davis in a runoff.

The only clearcut decision made was to change the city's election date from the second Tuesday in September to the second Tuesday in March, a move which will extend the terms of the incumbent commissioners who aren't campaigning to 30 months. The winners of Tuesday's runoff will also be elected to terms six months longer than the two-year norm.

Once the runoff election is held Tuesday, the next election facing city voters will be March 1979, when Mayor Don Tanner and Commissioners Vernita Cox and Woodrow O'Neal will be up for re-election.

The referendum, which passed 160-11, changed the city charter to allow the election date change.

A total of 534 city voters cast their ballots in the election, 522 in person and 12 absentee, in the first election in the Glades to utilize the new Votomatic equipment. The 534 who did vote represent 53 percent of the 1,006 registered voters.

Of the 534 who voted, a total of 477 ballots were counted in the Group One race, with Adams picking up 237, Sullivan winning 174 and John Junior Meadows taking the remaining 66. Before the absentee ballots were counted, Adams was winning with a majority of 235 votes to 169 for Sullivan and 62 for Meadows.

In the Group Two race, Wells won 218 of the total of 491 ballots counted, with Doris Sanford Davis winning 174 and Charlie E. Reese picking up the remaining 99 votes.

Adams said he didn't have much to say about the election so far. He and Reese both commented they had been told by a number of voters throughout the day the system seemed much easier and simpler than the old mechanical voting machines.

Sullivan wasn't present to comment on the election campaign or the method of voting.

Wells said he was satisfied the Group Two campaign had been cleanly fought "by everyone concerned and said it is looking now toward the runoff election next week.

He said he was also satisfied with the Votomatic system.

Mrs. Davis said she was "very happy" with Mrs. Davis' statement, "I feel the people supported what I wanted to do," she said, "and I have already solicited and received the support of Mr. Reese."

"The Votomatic system seems to have been much easier (than the traditional voting machine). We're supposed to have had only five spoiled ballots and I expected a lot more than that on the first time they were used. I think there would have been more with the old system."

Mrs. Loretta Critchfield, the election inspector, said she felt the Votomatic worked out surprising well, adding most of the voters had never seen the machines before Tuesday and had to be instructed by Rose Goodbread on how to cast their ballots.

She and Mrs. Goodbread confirmed Mrs. Davis' statement that there were five spoiled ballots, "and the voters caught those themselves," Mrs. Goodbread said.

Mrs. Critchfield also pointed out there was much less confusion Tuesday night than there has traditionally been. Another point was brought up when Mayor Don Tanner added the system must have worked out well because there was no line of voters at all waiting to cast their ballots when the polls closed at 7 p.m.

City Clerk Virginia Walker said she had checked on the operation at the polls a number of times throughout the day and she was convinced things went smoothly.

There were a number of comments made by onlookers at how slow the counting of the ballots went but Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester, who had arrived at the city hall shortly before the polls closed, said that was to be expected.

She said the ballot counter used is a portable model and doesn't

City voters try new polling place, equipment

BELLE GLADE—Ready or not, city voters will turn out Tuesday to make selections in two races for the City Commission, with a third candidate for re-election going in unopposed, but the voters will face two major changes.

Instead of voting in the old fire station at 33 W. Ave. A, the election will be held in the new fire station at 525 S.W. Second St. in McDonald Park and Belle Glade voters will be their first experience with the Votomatic voting system instead of using the traditional mechanical voting machines.

Returning to his fifth consecutive two-year term as West Borough Commissioner is William Grear, who is opposed for the first time since he first ran for office eight years ago. He has served one one-year term as mayor.

Grear is director of the Wee Care day care center for children on Southwest Tenth Street. He is a former barber and school teacher and was the first, and so far only, black person to serve as either commissioner or mayor in Belle Glade. His wife is Dr. Effie Grear, principal of Glades Central High School.

Incumbent North Borough

Commissioner Aubrey Farmer is attempting to gain re-election to his eighth two-year term on the city commission in the face of opposition by challenger Claude Tindall.

With 14 years experience under his belt, Farmer is the senior elected city official. He has served three one-year terms as mayor and is currently representing the city on the Budget and Policy Advisory Committee of the Solid Waste Authority Glades facility project.

Farmer is a foreman with the South Florida Conservancy District.

Tindall retired in July from the position of Detective Captain of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, where he served for 11 years as commander of the Glades sub-station.

Tindall, while not a political novice, has never held an elective office before. He is a veteran of 30 years experience in law enforcement and is the son of a 44-year veteran law enforcement man who at one time was sheriff in Osceola County where Tindall was born.

He ran for sheriff in Broward County in 1966 but quips he was the first Democratic candidate in the history of the state to lose to a Republican opponent, bowing by 90 votes in the year Claude Kirk and other Republicans made the party a political reality. He ran for the same office four years later and was defeated again.

In the East Borough, incumbent Kenneth Harris is attempting to regain his seat for the second consecutive term against challenger Earl Meredith.

Harris is a buyer for Kroger Produce Co., and a former assistant administrator of the South Florida Conservancy District. Winding up his first term on the commission, Harris is currently vice-mayor.

Meredith is a native of Pahokee who moved to Belle Glade eight years ago and is owner of Earl's Service Center. He ran for the East Borough seat on the commission once before but was defeated by then-incumbent Bill Bailey in 1973.

Tom Lewis here Friday

BELLE GLADE—Rep. Tom Lewis (R-North Palm Beach) announced this week he will be in the Belle Glade area to meet with any and all interested persons.

"I have arranged to be in the City Commission chambers at City Hall from 4:30 to 6 p.m. on Friday," Lewis said.

Rep. Lewis said further, "I have not had the opportunity to get out to the Glades to discuss the 1977 session or any matters of deep concern with my constituents in the Glades." He also added "due to several commitments and a vacation, this will be my only trip until sometime in October."

"I hope people will take advantage of coming to the City Hall and exercise their right to express their views and concerns to me," said the North Palm Beach Legislator.

replace the four outgoing directors for three year terms, are James Gressinger of Gressinger Farms, local attorney James Ganh, Jane (Mrs. Curtis) Thompson and Tom Bonavia, president of Bonavia Chevrolet.

The runners-up in the election, from whom replacements will be drawn in the event the chamber loses a director during the coming year, are Dr. Effie Grear, principal of Glades Central High School; Joe Hughes, owner of Hughes Pharmacy; Bernie Lee, vice president of Dave's West Palm Beach Shops; William Magill, safety director of South Bay Growers and Getchell Singleton, principal of Rosenwald Elementary School in South Bay.

Outgoing directors are Mrs. Mary Orsenigo, Earl Meredith, Dr. Effie Grear (who had replaced director Leonard Case when he resigned earlier this year from the board) and Wayne Mikell.

The new directors will be installed at the Oct. 20 Annual Awards Banquet the Chamber will hold at the Elks Club but will actually begin service before that when they're seated at the Oct. 13 Chamber meeting.

Mrs. Crane announced last week the speaker for the banquet will be Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunt-

THE TOP VOTE GETTERS in the South Bay City election Tuesday were concentrating on tallying up the total number of votes counted by the computer. Placing in runoffs (from left) were Doris Sanford Davis, Thomas Adams and Billy Wells, whose wife is at his side. Wilbur Ray Sullivan, who won a spot in the runoff with Adams, wasn't present for the vote tally.

Nobody ever accused me of being a mechanic, and with extremely good reason, as it turns out.

The other day, I "got cracking" on my airboat engine, which is flying in 10,000 pieces and do you know something? Pieces that fit nicely coming out don't go back in as well. And you tend to have nuts and bolts left over.

But the most embarrassing thing was that I forgot to put the lifters back in. Engines don't run without lifters. And this was after I was putting the crankcase back together.

Everything is working out, however. Due to an experienced individual's help, I should have it back together sometime next year. And running the year after that. If I'm lucky.

The other day, wife Lilly gazed wistfully at a passing school bus and, like many another mother of underage children, sighed about "sending Burke to school".

But it'll be another four years or so before we can pack his lunch pail and send him out into the wide world of knowledge.

And by that time, he'll be a schoolyard terror.

Last week was the first time to school for many a Glades child, but take heart, teachers, the battle has just begun.

The nice thing about the back to school period is, that football is just around the corner. Not that it's not already here so far as the pros are concerned.

Speaking of the pros, it was with a great deal of glee that I noted the Dolphins fell to the Saints the other day. About time the Saints began moving. I've always been for the underdog, but I'm kinda "tired of muttering 'Wait'll next year' at the end of each passing season.

In this area, however, the three high school teams look very promising. Glades Day, Glades Central and the ever-menacing Pahokee High should provide hours of entertainment for area residents, and all three have chances of a good, very good, season.

There are those who say high school football should be outlawed. They note the injuries and the "winning is everything" installed in almost equal measure in team players.

We once had a debate on the merits of high school ball way back in high school and the "pro" side made on very telling point.

That point was that playing on a football team teaches a student more about individual discipline than anything else he can do. And it's right. Ask any of the high school players how much it takes out of him to show up for practice every day for the very passing and limited glory of a couple of hours of game time.

The guys I admire most are the sophomores and juniors who show up day in and day out, give their fullest, and don't see much service before the crowds. They sacrifice the most for the least amount of glory. But their day will come.

Wait'll next year.

Stumbled onto a good piece of news the other day for all you sports guzzlers. According to a research project conducted in Honolulu, those who drink a beer a day run almost 50% less risk of coronary heart disease than those who don't drink the stuff.

Among 7,705 men studied over a six-year period, 294 of them developed heart disease and the report said the illness was "far less common in those who drank as many as four beers a day."

Solidarity counts in solid waste

It'll be a shame if Pahokee pulls out of the solid waste disposal project now being set up with the concept of handling all the garbage and trash generated in the Glades because they aren't granted compensation for hauling their waste from Pahokee to the facility site in Belle Glade.

The spectre of the split in the effort first appeared almost two months ago when newly appointed Pahokee representative William McKinstry told the other members of the Budget and Policy Advisory Committee the Pahokee City Council probably wouldn't sign the intergovernmental agreement unless such compensation would be forthcoming.

It would admittedly cost more for Pahokee to truck its garbage and refuse to the Belle Glade site than for Belle Glade and South Bay to transport their waste and we can understand, particularly since Pahokee already has its own incinerator, why they would want some compensation.

But...and in this case, it's a big but, it would be less right for the citizens of Belle Glade and South Bay, along with residents in the unincorporated areas of the south part of the county, to subsidize Pahokee's hauling costs than for everybody to pay their own trucking expenses.

And that's not even considering the extra expenses of bookkeeping which the compensation would entail or whether really accurate bookkeeping which would satisfy everybody could even be done.

Of course the Pahokee City Councilmen must give priority to Pahokee first but it would be a double shame for them to decrease the economic feasibility of the solid waste plan by striking out on their own, as well as splitting up the most cooperative venture the three Glades cities have undertaken in a long time.

It will also be ironic, should they do that, when the council approaches the Solid Waste Authority, which they would have rejected, for a permit to open a new landfill for the exclusive use of Pahokee.

But we hope that doesn't happen. We'd like to see our sister city stay in the project with us.

Ripoff rates

What could be the best news we've had lately came up this week when word leaked out the Public Service Commission is thinking about reconsidering the inverted rate schedule Florida Power & Light now operates under.

No one likes the idea of a rate hike in utilities but the PSC's idea of the inverted rates to provide relief for smaller users at the expense of average and above-average users proved to be such a monster the PSC members were besieged by hundreds of angry complaints.

And if a reorganization of the rate structure isn't exactly a foregone conclusion, the possibility is encouraging.

Utility bills are high enough already without forcing the average man on the street to subsidize someone else's power bill.

She's good!

It's always nice to use the usually gloomy editorial page to throw a bouquet instead of a brick bat and it's particularly nice when the bouquet's going to as nice a person as City Clerk June Boglioli.

Mrs. Boglioli, often referred to in the city hall annex as June Bug, has taken her job seriously since she first succeeded former City Clerk Vera Jones and her sincerity shows in her efforts to educate city residents on the use of the new Voluntary voting system city voters will first experience in Tuesday's city election.

There're always a few people who can't or won't be reached when such a basic change as the machinery for electing public officials takes place but there'll be no one who can legitimately claim June Bug didn't do her dead level best to get the word out on how the new system operates.

The city is fortunate in having employees such as Mrs. Boglioli and we just wanted to make sure the residents know it.

Who cares?

The public apathy toward politics, which has become a part of the American Way of Life, was graphically illustrated in Tuesday's South Bay city election when only 15.9 percent of the city's registered voters was more than enough to change that city's election day.

Whether moving the day from the second Tuesday in September to the second Tuesday in March was good or bad isn't the point. The point is that the change was a matter of utmost indifference to all but 311 of the city's voters.

With little more than half of the people who voted caring enough to register an opinion one way or another, it took only 30.7 percent, which measured out to a grand total of 4.4 percent of the city's population, to force the change.

It was almost enough to cause an encore of another action by another newspaper following another election in another town, which printed the story that since, "such a small number of citizens cared enough to vote, we figured they wouldn't care about the results, either. So we won't print them."

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Female Winnim! Sometimes I think they're the reason for places like Chattahoochee. Then other times I know darned well they are.

Squired a young lady (gotta use a euphemism cause the boss says this is a family newspaper) over to see Tom T. Hall last week and it was, as they say, one of your more interestin' examples of frustrating females.

Guess I can't say I wasn't forewarned ("Dean, did I tell you I get rowdy at concerts," just about the time we sit down) but that's just another example of understatement, about the last one that night.

Couldn't even wait for Tom T. She had to start it out with Don T. (Adams, that is, and I wasn't even too surprised to see him in his official capacity before too long. Always knew he had 'good tastes so why not music too?")

Hadn't hardly got the intro out of my mouth when she throws him a sweet smile and allows he can probably expect to see her in his official capacity before too long. Always knew she considered herself to be a cross between Junior Johnson and Stirling Moss.

But where does a race driver come up with such a warm, innocence-laden smile? Guess it just takes experience.

Anyway, Don, I was sorta glad you left when you did. Spared you and me both the mortification over what followed...or could you hear the yells for Tom T. way over where you were sitting? Somehow, I believe they came across loud and clear.

Not to say she was loud but I remember distinctly that right after the Leatherhunks came out with one of her demands, a kid all the way across the auditorium was startled into dropping his popcorn and started crying into his mother's skirts.

But it wasn't until after the yells, the swilling and the total disregard for the No Smoking signs scattered around the auditorium ("If the hippies can have their weed, I can have regular cigarettes") and she made his appearance that I found what some people's definition of "rowdy" truly includes.

Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer didn't have a thing over my whole face after that. Didn't matter the auditorium lights were down. There was one section bathed in a neat pool of red light.

But we'll skip over that (I thought I'd forget how to blink but I guess there are limits) until after the performance was over and she started telling me she was gonna die if she didn't get a chance to talk to Tom T. in person. That surprised me, I found the power of the press might even that door and she said she was gonna die if she did meet him.

Between those two declarations and the threats that if I didn't get some decent pictures there would be murder at the best, and mayhem at the worst, there was a distinct possibility of a lot of blood being shed that night.

But everything was cool except for some hot-faced fans and she not only met The Man Himself, she kissed him...three times. Got downright disgusting before it was all over and wouldja believe this female believed him when he said he loved her too?

Then it was all over except for the long ride back to the Glades. Have you ever suffered a continuous case of assault and battery for 50 miles along with an ecstatic broken record of "I kissed him. I kissed Tom T. And he said he loves me too,?"

It'll wear you out. That's what it'll do.

Oh yeah, there was one little postscript to this sorry little saga. I'd thought I had one shot left in the camera the first time she kissed him and I made the mistake of telling her on the way back home.

And that was a blimp mistake because the picture didn't turn out and for the last several days, and I suspect it'll be the case for the foreseeable future, I've been subjected to a constant criticism of not having enough film so she could gloat over the possibility of sending photographic proof to her friends of the little escapade.

Female Winnim! Who needs 'em?

Lessee, now. If I made it for the past 11 years without close proximity to 'em, I should be able to make another 11 before the next interruption to 'another's relatively well-ordered life.

Blackwell-Wagner wedding announced

CANAL POINT—Miss Linda Diane Blackwell of Canal Point and Arlington, Va., became the bride of Dennis Eugene Wagner of Schwertz, Texas and Washington, D.C., in an impressive double-ring, candlelight ceremony held in the United Methodist Church at Canal Point, Friday, July 1, at 8 p.m., with the Rev. Daniel Casselberry, pastor of the church, and Rev. Ernoch Finkle of Pelion, S.C., officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eutis Blackwell of Canal Point and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Wagner of Schwertz, Texas.

The Church altar was decorated for the event with the floor baskets of spring flowers and baby's breath standing in front of a bank of Lady and Eureka palms. Lighting the scene were two brass spiral staircase candelabra and a brass arch candelabra bearing tall cathedral tapers.

Featured on the program of nuptial music were the songs of vocal soloist Wayne Shands of Orlando, who sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Wedding Song," accompanied by organist Lois Zaccagnino, who also played traditional wedding selections.

The ceremony was replete with tender expressions of familial love, beginning when the two mothers, before seating themselves, approaching a three-branch candelabrum placed before the altar, with each lighting one of the outer symbolic candles. As the bride stood at the rear of the Church ready to be escorted up the aisle by her father, she was serenaded by the bridegroom standing at the altar, who sang "If." While approaching the altar at her father's side, the bride paused long enough to present a rose and a kiss to both her mother and the mother of the bridegroom.

After their exchange of wedding vows the first act of the bridal couple signifying the unity of their oneness was to take Sacrament together using a special Sacrament made in Jerusalem, which had been given to the bride's parents for this purpose by a college classmate of the bride. Before leaving the altar the bridal couple took two candles which had been lit by the mother's and together they lit the remaining one in the middle, symbolically signifying their new unity of love before blowing out the flames of the mother's candles.

The bride was radiantly lovely in her traditional wedding gown of organza. Queen Anne collar of Venice lace and soft A-line skirt sweeping into a full chapel train. Long slim sleeves were accented with lace medallions, and her tiered chapel-length veil was attached to a matching sweetheart lace camellia. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with white cattleya orchid and fringed with green foliage.

Harriet (Bunni) Cooper of Arlington, Va., as maid of honor wore a gown of green knit crepe imprinted with dainty sprays of colorful spring flowers and she carried a colonial Edwardian bouquet of mixed spring flowers and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Jamie Gib-

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner

son, Teryl Collier and Vickie Wagner, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns were designed identical to that of the honor attendant in colors of yellow, blue and peach. Their flowers were also the same as those of the maid of honor.

As flower girl Kimberly Sanders, cousin of the bride, wore a pink knit crepe dress and scattered flower petals from a white pearlized basket to which a cascade of spring flowers was attached.

Mrs. Blackwell chose for her daughter's wedding a full-length green knit dress with a knee-length cape featuring a sheer overlay in rainbow colors, while Mrs. Wagner, mother of the bridegroom, wore a light yellow dress with a sheer cape. The corsage of each mother was a white cattleya orchid.

Mrs. Tom Engis, grandmother of the bride, was in a full-length blue knit dress with a sweetheart neckline and wore a white cymbidium corsage.

Raymond E. Wagner served as his son's best man.

Ushers were W. E. (Bill) Blackwell, Jr., brother of the bride; Michael Sanders, her cousin, and Gene Hingson, Mrs. Donnel Jarriel was director of the wedding.

Hostesses at the reception in the social hall of the Church were Mrs. Gertrude Williams, Mrs. Marion Bleech, Mrs. Christine Venezia and Mrs. Robert O. Lampi. Mrs. Dale Milita was in charge of the bride's book.

On the wedding trip the couple toured Disney World and are now at their home, 1204 S. George Mason Drive, Apt. 21, Arlington, Va. 22204.

Seniors may apply for ID cards

BELLE GLADE—Senior citizens in the Glades will be able to obtain identification cards for the county's reduced fare bus transportation program at any one of ten centers this month, although none are located in the Glades.

Persons 60 years of age and over are eligible to ride county buses for 15 cents one way anywhere within the system, which has routes covering the area from Jupiter to Boca Raton and west into the Glades.

A one-time one dollar fee is charged for the laminated ID cards which bear the photograph of the recipient.

More than 60,000 senior citizens have obtained cards for the discount rate since the county commission, acting as the Palm Beach Transportation Authority, approved the program in 1976.

The ID distribution centers open to the public include:

- Sept. 8, Boynton Beach, Senior Citizens Center at S.E. First St. and S.E. Second Avenue from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- Sept. 9, Lake Worth Shuffeboard Courts at 1121 Lucerne Ave., 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- Sept. 13, Palm-Coast Plaza at 7633 S. Dixie in West Palm Beach, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- Sept. 14, Boca Raton City Hall, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- Sept. 20, Delray Beach, Division of Aging, South County Courthouse at 345 Congress Ave., 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- Sept. 23, Twin City Mall, North Palm Beach, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- Sept. 29, Boca Raton City Hall from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

GED is offered

The Department of Adult and Community Education announces that the Florida High School Equivalency Diploma Test (G.E.D.) will be given September 13, 14, and 15 at the Adult Education Center, 1235 15th Street, West Palm Beach.

Application for the test must be made at least one week in advance and it will be given from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The G.E.D. Test is offered weekly throughout the county. For additional information call Glades Central High Community School after 2 p.m. at 996-9246.

Hypertension tests set in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE—Hypertension (high blood pressure) tests are being given free on a regular basis in two locations in Belle Glade as part of an ongoing preventive medicine program being operated as a joint effort of county fire stations, the Palm Beach County Health Department and the American Heart Association.

Anyone wishing to have their blood pressure checked may have it done from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Belle Glade Health Center at 1024 N.W. Ave. D or from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the Belle Glade Fire Department at 535 S.W. Second St.

R HOW TO BLOW YOUR NOSE.

Physicians advise that one should not stop up one side of the nose and then blow the other. Some of the force will back up into the throat. Also, germ-laden mucus might be driven into the middle ear with a possible infection resulting.

Blow your nose gently. It must last you a lifetime. Don't pick or pull hairs from it. A serious infection may be caused. And, if it troubles you and home remedies don't give quick help, don't delay. Go to your physician for inspection and skilled treatment.

Who is at the Helm?

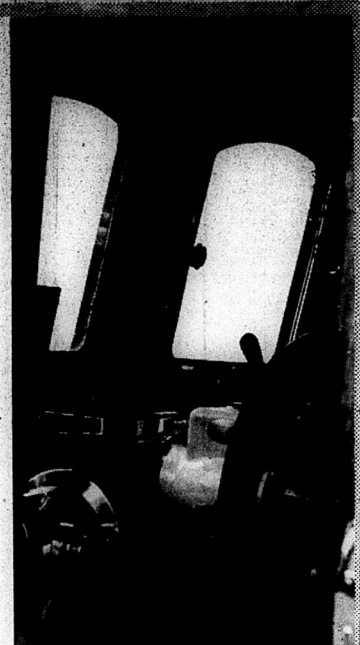

Who guides our lives? Are we a ship without a helmsman? Are we adrift, going no place?

Thanks be to God, who loves us so, He is willing to guide us, to show us the way over all manner of seas. How glorious to know there is such a One! All of us follow someone, some standard, but the true standard is God and His Word.

Let Him take over the wheel. He doesn't promise smooth sailing all the time, but He promises to guide us through the storm, and show us the way over calm and sweet but sometimes marker-less seas.

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water whose waters fail not."

Isaiah 58:11

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Pahokee Methodists to hold rally day

PAHOKEE—On Sunday, September 11, Pahokee First United Methodist Church will observe Rally Day. It is a day to show support for the church, and to join anew with other church members in the continuing program which the church seeks to carry out in the community.

Several important activities are planned for the day. During the Sunday School hour, the children and youth will be promoted to higher classes. In the morning worship services, Sunday School teachers will be consecrated anew to teaching the Bible to those in their charge.

A fellowship dinner will be held in the fellowship hall at noon. Members of the church are urged to invite others to come and be with them during this important day, and all friends of church families are invited to participate.

Pahokee men's softball banquet plans announced

PAHOKEE—An overall first place team has not yet been determined in the Pahokee Men's Softball League. The play-offs were interrupted by heavy rains last week. PPI and Wedgworth each have one loss in the three out of five series for first and second places. Union 76 defeated Hilyer & Lee in a two out of three series for third place.

The annual awards banquet has been set for Saturday, September 10, at the Pahokee Lions Club building at 1:30 p.m. President Roy Goodson will present the trophies to the Most Valuable Player on each team, the Most Valuable Player in the League, the player with the Most Home Runs, the player with the Highest Batting Average, the Most Valuable Pitcher in the League, and the overall First, Second and Third Place Teams. Home run, hitting average and team placement was determined by league statistics but the other awards were voted on by the players on all eight teams.

Election of officers for next year will follow the awards presentations.

Water management audit made

Demonstrating how the water management districts are living up to their assignment of protecting the water resources of the state is in the object of a performance audit mandated by the state legislature to begin next year.

The South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) has accepted the task of setting guidelines for this performance audit, public relations director Larry Nunn said last week, and of finding a firm to do the audit for all five water management districts in the states.

In 1975, the Water Resources Act was amended to include the requirement that each of the districts have an audit done to assure the public that they were, indeed, protecting water resources.

At that time, it was thought that this performance audit would be done every year. However, following research regarding guidelines, costs, and so forth, the legislature changed the requirement last year to once every three years.

"That doesn't mean the districts will be studied intensively one out of every three years," explained John Wodraska, SFWMD Inter-Agency Coordinator, who is heading the district's part in the audit program.

"We expect that the auditing firm," he said, "will take specific areas of the Water Resources Act such as the permitting of consumptive uses of water, and study the districts on a comparative basis. These types of studies will be spread over the next years, rather than focusing on an individual district once every three years."

The task of determining precisely what the performance audit should cover is a difficult one, Wodraska said.

"Since the real purpose of this audit is to provide accountability we must determine how we can show that water resources are, or are not, being protected," he said. "We must demonstrate that there are being protected to the best of the districts' abilities, and with the most effective and efficient use of the taxpayers' dollars. Just how we are going to do that is the job we have ahead of us."

The job will be primarily up to SFWMD. All of the water management districts have taken official action to ask the Department of Environmental Regulation to assign the task to the local district.

"We've been in the business the longest, since 1949, and we have the most taxpayers' investments to account for," said Wodraska. "It is natural that we be the one to lead the program and to find a firm which can do a good job of producing a reasonable, effective performance audit."

CLAUDE A. TINDALL, candidate for city commissioner from North Borough, and Earl Meredith, candidate for city commissioner from East Borough, spoke to the Belle Glade Lions Club on August 31. The meeting was open to the public.

Lions hear two city candidates

BELLE (GLADE)—Two candidates for the office of City Commissioner of Belle Glade spoke to the Belle Glade Lions Club last week. Earl Meredith, candidate from East Borough, and Claude A. Tindall, candidate from North Borough, each spoke for five minutes. The meeting was open to the public.

Although all five candidates were personally invited to speak to the Lions, only Meredith and Tindall were present.

Meredith gave a brief outline of his platform. The first point involved his promise of availability. He also emphasized attendance to both the commission meetings and workshops.

Another point Meredith made was that he does not feel that city commissioners should participate in the retirement fund. He did maintain that professional city employees were entitled to participate, though.

Meredith's third point concerned the use of city vehicles. He said that there has been some misuse in that some individuals were treating their city vehicles as private ones. This, he says, is expensive to the taxpayers. The city vehicles must be maintained properly, with gas, insurance and general maintenance. Meredith thinks that this waste by some city employees must be stopped.

Meredith also said that he would like to see land purchased for parks and recreation.

In summary, Meredith said that he would perform his duties to the best of his ability if elected.

Claude A. Tindall began his talk by giving a little of his background. He told that he was a native Floridian, and had been in police work for over 30 years.

Tindall said that he feels that his background qualifies him to give the kind of service the people of Belle Glade deserve.

Tindall promised to do as he has been doing for the past 11 years, if elected. He said that he will be glad to help the people in any way he can and will listen to any and all problems.

He stressed that harmony among the commissioners would be a great help to the citizens. Tindall maintained that he would always be willing to listen to anyone, if elected though he might not always agree.

June Boglioli, City Clerk, gave a demonstration on how to use the new voting machines. She said that the advantages to the new system are numerous.

One advantage is that the machine is easy to operate. Another is that it saves money, and a third is that it is easier and cheaper to transport.

June then presented a layout of the floor plan of the voting area to make voting easier for the citizens. Mrs. Boglioli then answered questions concerning the machine and the upcoming election.

Market specializes in international goods

George Teyrouz is the owner-manager of the International Market on Avenue B, in Belle Glade. The International Market is a grocery store which caters to a wide variety of ethnic groups.

The International Market sells groceries and housewares as a general line of goods as well as specialized lines of more exotic foods. The International Market carries a wide selection of beers and wines, as well.

Teyrouz was born in Aleppo, Syria, 1926 and stayed in Syria until 1950 when he came to the U.S. on March 26.

He settled in Miami, where he met his wife, Julia. Teyrouz has two daughters, Lila and Nora, who were married in Belle Glade. Nora married Lee Richmond, and Lila is married to Kevin Connell.

Teyrouz has been the owner-manager of the International Market since he bought it on August 17, 1975.

Previous to this he had been employed in the vending business in Miami, where he lived for 25 years.

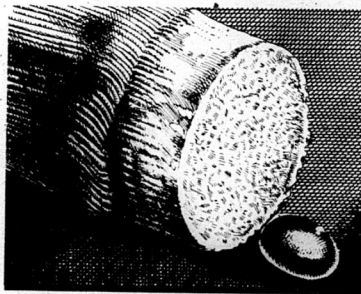

Teyrouz hobbies are collecting pipes, and raising orchids as well as some photography. He has an extensive collection of pipes which is now virtually his only hobby as he has no green house to raise orchids.

Teyrouz feels that as extensively as he has traveled he has not met friendlier people than in Belle Glade, and has every intention of staying in town much longer.

POLARIS. THE PLANT GROWTH REGULATOR THAT RIPENS SUGAR CANE.

Warm, wet weather may be ideal for growing sugar cane, but it's the last thing you need at a harvest time. This is the kind of weather that causes the cane plant to grow, but not to store sucrose.

Until now, there was little you could do but take unripened cane to the mill. Now, there's Polaris' Plant Growth Regulator by Monsanto, the chemical that stimulates sugar cane ripening. Polaris can increase sucrose levels—in spite of poor ripening conditions such as warm, wet weather.

Polaris is applied about six weeks before harvest. Cane treated with Polaris usually burns better at harvest, resulting in less trash to the mill. What's more, Polaris does not significantly affect cane tonnage, and has no adverse effect on ratoon regrowth.

Find out how Polaris can help you bring better-ripened cane to the mill this harvest. Contact N.F. Eason, (813) 481-1337, or the distributor for Polaris in your area for the full details.

Bats celebrate 50th

BELLE GLADE—Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ball II were honored guests at a party given by their children Saturday to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

The party was held at the Community United Methodist Church parlor in Belle Glade. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Ball III of Tallahassee, their son, James A. Ball IV and daughter, Katherine, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Osling of Marathon, their sons, Eric and Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ethridge of Miami, their son, Roy and their daughter, Lannie, were hosts and hostesses for the occasion.

Refreshments were served and flowers, furnished by Alice Mixson, decorated the parlor. A scrap book, containing good-wish notes, cards, and poems from friends around the country was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Ball.

Jane Rashley created a wedding cake that was enjoyed by the celebrants.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Gill, Mrs. Ball's brother, of Hiwassee, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson of Coconut Grove, who was the best man. Mrs. Stephen Stark of Tallahassee, Mr. Ball's sister and one of the bridesmaids; Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Mathers, Jenny, Dr. and Mrs. Coyle Moror, all of Tallahassee; Mrs. Louis Holt of Zephyrhills and Mr. and Mrs. Robert King of Avon Park.

Armistice Day Why?

It has been almost 50 years since November 11th 1918 when the Armistice was signed signaling the end of World War One. This momentous event triggered massive celebrations all over the world.

It was a day to remember. It was a day all worries of war, fears of the future, safety of the soldiers, concern for our country and our way of life burst into an atomic explosion of joy and relief which continued full force for twenty four hours, and in many cases longer where physical ability of the celebrants carried on to later exhaustion.

Yet, among many families there was sorrow mixed with their joy, because there was one missing who was not coming back. One who had given his all for the cause his country had called him to fight for. The only token of his remembrance was the Gold Star the Government had sent his Mother.

Many of these noble heroes sleep in "Flinders Field where Poppies bloom" and in other cemeteries in other lands. Their flesh and blood and bone have gone back to the dust from which it came, and has become an integral part of the soil of the nation in which they were buried.

The spirit of Rudyard Kiplings poem, "Recessional" cries out to its potent, reminding, entreaty: "Lord God of Hosts by with us yet, Lest we forget."

Everglades Post 20 of the American Legion is sponsoring a county-wide observance of Armistice Day and various departments of the city, county, and state are being asked to cooperate in all facets of the activities to make the day a success and an observance worthy of the men and the cause for which it is being observed.

The second magazine in the U.S.—published three days after the first one—was Benjamin Franklin's General Magazine and Historical Chronicle.

Registration is set for adult school

BELLE GLADE—Registration for the fall term of Glades Central Adult School will take place Sept. 12-15 (Monday through Thursday) next week between 6 and 10 p.m. at the Glades Central High School Annex, according to Director Le-Hai Young.

Young said the school includes courses to help adults complete their high school education, courses to prepare adults to take the state GED tests, adult basic education courses and English as a second language.

Classes begin the week of Sept. 19, Young said, and will last ten weeks, ending Nov. 24, with a makeup day on Nov. 28. He said the classes are three hours per night, beginning at 7 p.m. and ending at 10 p.m.

Most of the courses are taught in classrooms on the Glades Central campus but Young said there are also classes being offered at Pahokee High School and East Lake Middle School in Pahokee.

Anyone wishing further information is invited to call Young at 996-5216.

the Glades. Mrs. Crane said invitations had also been sent to Ronlee Construction Co., Crabtree Construction, Inc. and Capelletti Brothers, Inc. of Hialeah.

Unwin said there will be no lengthy talks but after the ribbon-cutting, the public is invited to take part in refreshments being served in the Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association Building by the Belle Glade Junior Woman's Club.

"We need a lot of backing for the rest of the project," Unwin said, "so we're trying to build interest with the ribbon-cutting. But this isn't the end, it's the beginning."

The next step of construction for the four-laning of SR 80 to West Palm Beach is a 13.8 mile stretch of road which will be cut through cane fields east of Hooker Highway to US 98 just east of 20 Mile Bend.

DOT engineer Fowler said one phase of negotiations with sugarcane growers, recently ended when a decision was made to use a parallel canal as a source of borrow material instead of hauling in fill from a distance or use borrow material from canals running perpendicular to the roadway.

Fowler said the sugar growers had wanted the DOT to use borrow material from the perpendicular canals but during talks, DOT representatives had come to the conclusion that unless someone could come up with the difference in the cost, the plan couldn't be justified.

In the meantime, negotiations on procuring right of way were delayed until the borrow discussions could be completed. Fowler said the right of way procurement negotiations have since been resumed.

He said the roadway would run about 60 feet from the canal and DOT engineers plan to build an earthen berm between the road and the canal to avoid the danger of cars being forced off the road into the deep water.

The 13.8 mile project will be built in two projects, with the first one, to include preliminary earth moving and clearing, scheduled to be funded for fiscal year 1978-79. Construction should begin that same fiscal year.

The second phase, planned to include the actual construction, is scheduled to be funded for fiscal year 1979-80.

Tom Lewis said the most important task in the near future is beginning construction of the 13.8 mile stretch because once it's begun, the investment will be large enough it would be harder for the DOT to not build the road than to go ahead and finish the job.

operate as rapidly as the larger computer which will count the votes during the general elections in September, October and November of 1978.

"The system isn't at its best with small city elections," Mrs. Winchester said, "because of the counter but I've noticed the actual voting goes much smoother in the smaller elections."

After the polls closed, the first step was to count the number of ballot cards to make sure there was the same number of cards as the number of registration slips.

In this case, Mrs. Critchfield told Mrs. Winchester the count was one over the number there was supposed to be.

Mrs. Winchester said the count must be recorded as made and it would be double checked by the computer, which in this case recorded the same number as the registration slips indicated.

After the cards were hand-counted by the poll workers, they were run through the vote counter one at a time by Mrs. Walker. The entire operation lasted 35 to 40 minutes.

Although the actual counting of the votes may have taken longer than with the traditional machines, one difference that could be noted is that under the old system, the first vote count was unofficial and had to be validated while the first count under the Votomatic System is considered the official tally.

Mrs. Winchester said other advantages include a lower cost for the new machines, easier transportation and the fact that if a mechanical voting machine were declared invalid after a number of people had voted on it, those votes were lost while the votes are still available and could be hand counted if necessary under the Votomatic system.

One other comment on the South Bay election was made by a non-resident. Told about the results, Belle Glade City Clerk June Boghila, who has been reading herself and Belle Glade voters for the new system in that city's election next Tuesday, said she was very encouraged.

Vitamins are needed

By Dian J. Lidinsky, Registered Dietician
Everglades Memorial Hospital
Vitamins, vitamins, vitamins! Everybody talks about them but only a few know what vitamins are, why they really do, and where they are to be found. To begin with, vitamins are organic substances that are essential for proper body functioning. They cannot be made by the body so they must be obtained from the food we eat.

We are aware of the adverse effect of malnutrition and we have seen pictures of deformed people who are the victims of extreme vitamin deficiencies. Vitamins affect virtually all parts of our bodies: vitamins are relied upon for bone formation, for healing wounds, to provide energy, for healthy skin, and on and on.

There are two main categories of vitamins—water soluble and fat soluble. We will discuss water soluble vitamins first. Our systems cannot store any appreciable amounts of water soluble vitamins in reserve; therefore, we must provide our bodies with these vitamins daily. Ascorbic acid, thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, pyridoxine, folic acid, cyanocobalamin (B12), and pantothenic acid are the main water soluble vitamins.

Thiamine (B1) is one of the B complex vitamins. Thiamine aids the body cells in utilizing energy from food. Thiamine helps keep the nervous system healthy and also promotes good appetite and digestion. Lean pork, liver, heart, dry beans and peas, whole grain and enriched cereals and breads and many nuts (peanuts, Brazil nuts, cashews, pecans) are a source of thiamine.

Ken Quaranta, Assistant Consumer Services Supervisor Florida Power & Light

The difference between these two thermostats can save you up to 40% on your air-conditioning costs.

The thermostat in his right hand is set at 73 degrees. The one in the left is set at 78 degrees.

The difference in the thermostat settings is only five degrees. But one little degree can make quite a difference in the cost of cooling. Approximately eight percent in the average fully air-conditioned home.

When you stop to consider that you can still be comfortable at 78 degrees and save on your air-conditioning costs as well, which one would you choose?

Setting the thermostat at a "comfortable" setting is only one way to save money on your cooling costs. Here are some others:

- If your thermometer isn't marked in degrees, place a good thermometer in a room out of the air-conditioning flow to be sure you're maintaining 78 degrees.

- Insulate your attic floor. A sufficient layer of insulation in the attic can cut your costs substantially if your home is fully air-conditioned. It's a good investment. (For further information on insulation, pick up our booklet "Guide to Home Insulation" at any FPL office.)

- Weatherstrip your doors and windows. (Especially jealous windows.) It's another good way to keep the heat out, the cool in and the costs down.

- Shade your sunlit windows with awnings, shutters or solar film. Unshaded glass panels, when exposed to direct sunlight, will greatly increase the workload of your air-conditioning unit.

- Use light colors on your walls and roof to reflect the sun. The lighter the color, the less heat absorbed.

- Shade your air-conditioning unit with shrubbery, but don't block the air flow. That way it'll operate more economically and efficiently.

Why are we telling you all this? Because FPL isn't any happier about higher costs than you are. And we want to help you save money and energy.

Friday night in Belle Glade

Gators open season

The Glades Day Gators will open their 1977 football season Friday night at the home stadium against St. Petersburg Northside, head coach Byron Walker told the Belle Glade Rotary Club Monday, and the season appears to be shaping up well.

"Northside will be tough," he told Rotarian football fans. "They were voted in the top 20 in Class A schools in the state. We're kinda leery of them, but that's the way I like it. We won't be overconfident."

The game will begin at 8:00 p.m. and Walker said the local school has 70 to 80 season tickets left for those who wish to have reserved seats.

Starting against Northside on

In the backfield, Tommy Duda will start as quarterback, Winston Byrd as fullback, and the running backs will be Steve Richie and Qui Que Echav.

Two starting offensive players won't be starting due to injuries, said Walker. They are Frank Davis, who will have to be replaced at right tackle as he is now in the hospital and Kenny Buckner at tight end.

Others expected to see offensive action are Greg Glisson and Westley Thompson.

Starting on defense will be Howard Ayres as middle linebacker, Kenny Strickland as noseman, John Scruggs and Basil Martin as defensive ends, Steve Richie and Elmer Miller as cornerbacks, and Larry Fowler and Qui Que Echav as safeties.

Walker said the team will run three basic offensive formations, the Power-I, I-Slot, and I-Wing. The Power-I gives two blockers from the backfield instead of other formations that only allow one and will be used for most running plays. Passing plays will utilize the other two formations.

The defense will be a "6-2" basically with six men on the line and linebackers stacked inside the defensive guards. For goal line stands, the defense will switch to a "6-5" which will give a better blitz.

Walker told the Rotarians Northside will be only one of two teams ranked in the top ten in Class A on the schedule this year. The other is Gold Coast Academy, who the Gators take on October 14 away from their home field. Gold Coast is ranked 9th.

"The key will be our attitude," said Walker. "We've got the ability." He asked the Rotarians and their families to give the team support this year.

Another change that has been made this year is in adding three teams to the district. "Last year, we only had to beat Moore Haven to get into the playoffs," said Walker. This year, Kings Academy, Gold Coast Academy, and Ft. Lauderdale Westminster have been added to the district.

Walker also thanked the local Rotarians for providing support for the summer recreation program at Glades Day this year. He said an average of 40 people a day took advantage of the facilities, including the gym, tennis courts, and weight room. "It gave some of the players an opportunity to keep in shape through the summer."

In other Rotary-Business, Marvin Unwin noted the ribbon cutting ceremony for the dedication of SR 80 will be held Saturday morning and invited all Rotarians and friends to the event and Terry Kirkman and Fritz Stein reported on the membership drive. The drive will end when the club's membership totals 60. It is now 51.

* SATURDAY GAME

Players are honored at local banquet

The Glades Women's Softball League held its Annual Awards banquet August 31 at the Belle Glade Marina. The chicken was late and the potato salad didn't last long enough but there was lots of fun and everyone enjoyed themselves.

New officers elected were President Mary Lou Stevens, Vice President Doris Felez and Secretary Treasurer Barbara Morgan. Trophies were presented to the first place Wallis Pharmacy team, the most valuable players of the individual teams and to the best sports of the individual teams.

Final standings for the league were: Wallis Pharmacy, first; Local 2152, second; Miami Herald and Dixie Fried Chicken tied for third place; South Bay Growers, fifth and Glades Sugar, sixth.

Glades Women's softball roundup

By Linda Mims

BELLE GLADE-Teams A and B of the Glades Women's Softball League All-Stars locked horns Aug. 30 at the Jaycee ball park to determine which team would be challenging first place Wallis Pharmacy in the league's finale game, with Team B coming out winners by a score of 11-8.

Team A members were Rachel Mills, Michelle Jordan, and Lynn Vann from the Miami Herald; Judy Curtis and Sharon of Dixie Fried Chicken; Barbara Morgan and Donna Garcia of Local 2152; Loretta Pugh and Cindy Riddle of South Bay Growers; Lisa Logan, Judy Snyder and Rhonda Gamble of South Bay Growers. Team A coaches were Ronnie Brown and Jim Humphrey.

Team B members were Awilda Rosario, Erma Vasquez and Rita Schoenfeld of Dixie Fried Chicken; Gail Hartwick and Rose Goodbread of Glades Sugar; Barbara Hartzog, Sara Rives and Paula Anderson of Local 2152; Donia Adams and Janie Priest of Miami Herald; Judy Johnson and Susan Moss of South Bay Growers. The Team B coaches were Howell Goodbread and Robert Anderson.

Team B started off the scoring with Gail Hartwick and Barbara Hartzog both drawing walks, then coming home on Donia Adams' base hit before shortfielder Sara Rives fled out to left field for the third out.

Team A came back for one run in the top of the second when Sharon Humphrey scored on base hits by Cindy Riddle and Lynn Vann. Team B loaded the bases in the bottom of the second but could only get one run across by Judy Johnson to keep the lead, 3-1.

Rachel Mills and Michelle Jordan crossed the plate for Team A in the third inning before Loretta Pugh was tagged out at second to end the scoring for Team A, tying the game at 3-3. Rita Schoenfeld was Team B's only run in the bottom of the third to put A back in lead, 4-3.

Team B dominated the fourth inning by fielding three consecutive outs, then wielding their bats for four runs by Susan Moss, Janie Priest, Erma Vasquez and Barbara Hartzog.

Judy Curtis went to first on a base hit to centerfield in the top of the fifth for Team A but was put out on second base for the first out. Barbara Morgan went to first on a fielder's choice and then Michelle Jordan popped up to catcher Donia Adams, who then made a throw to second baseman Rita Schoenfeld for the third out.

Sara Rives went to first on an error for Team B in the bottom of the fifth but was left stranded as Judy Johnson fled out to centerfielder Lisa Logan. Shortfielder Michelle Jordan put the next two batters, Susan Moss and Janie Priest, out to wind up the inning, leaving the score at 8-3.

Sharon Humphrey drew her third walk of the night for Team A to start the sixth inning. Loretta Pugh reached first on an error and Donna Garcia got a hit to left-centerfield to bring in two more runs for Team A. Left fielder Barbara Hartzog put an end to the scoring by snagging the next two hits to bring Team A to within three runs of tying the game.

It was the top of the lineup for Team B in the bottom of the sixth, with Awilda Rosario, Erma Vasquez and Barbara Hartzog round-

Carter is providing car to school

PAHOKEE-For the second year in a row, and since the inception of Gordon Carter Chevrolet in Pahokee, Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High School has been granted the use of brand new cars for their Driver's Education program.

This year the school will be driving a 1978 four-door Chevrolet Impala. Driver's Ed. teacher Eddie Rhodes said Carter Chevrolet is the first company from Pahokee that has really showed support for PHS program.

He also stated that in the ten years previous to Gordon Carter's assistance, the Driver's Ed. cars were usually furnished by companies in West Palm Beach.

Carter said the Impala will be replaced by another 1978 car when the mileage reaches 4,000. According to Rhodes the High School teaches 70-85 Driver's Ed. students per year.

GORDON CARTER, left, of Carter Chevrolet in Pahokee, accepts a certificate of appreciation from Eddie Rhodes, Driver's Education teacher, on behalf of Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High School and Principal Jack Redding. Carter is providing a 1978 Impala to the school for use in the Driver's Ed. classes. This is the second year he has voluntarily provided a new car.

Votomatic: Try it, you'll like it Election is Tuesday

CITY CLERK JUNE BOGLIOLI (right) and city employee Sharon Bramlett point out on a posterboard the floor plan of the city's polling place at the new fire station (at 525 S.W. Second St.). Mrs. Bramlett's right hand is where incoming voters will have a chance to try out a sample ballot before going on to the precinct registration tables (her left hand). Mrs. Boglioli points with her right hand to the two small tables where voters will receive their ballots before going to any one of the many marked booths to cast their ballots and deposit the punched ballot in a ballot box at the small table by the exit (pointed out by her left hand).

BELLE GLADE—When city electors go to the polls Tuesday to choose city commissioners for the next two years, they'll be going to a different polling place, set up in a different manner than in past elections, and will be using a new voting system.

Because of the confusion which can arise from changes, City Clerk June Boglioli has been coordinating a public education program on where and how to vote, speaking at various clubs and organizations and displaying the new Votomatic voting machines around the city.

The city's new fire station at 525 S.W. Second St. will be the new polling place, with demonstration models of the Votomatic set up at the entrance to show those voters who haven't seen it how it operates.

Behind the demonstration tables, the scene will be more familiar, with an information table set up just before the four tables where the voters will register at their precinct.

After being checked through the precinct, the voter will pick up a punch card ballot and an envelope and then go to one of the four lines of voting booths where they will punch their ballot, replace it in the envelope.

The stub will then be torn off the ballot by an election officer at a table near the exit and the voter will place his or her own ballot in the ballot box located in the same place.

For voters who still haven't seen the Votomatic, Mrs. Boglioli said demonstration models are still in each of the city's four banks, in the City Library, at the Lake Shore

Civic Center and at the Lake Shore Middle School gymnasium at nights when the city recreation department is sponsoring basketball games.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1977.

NORTH BOROUGH	AUBREY FARMER	4 →
VOTE FOR ONE	CLAUDE A. TINDALL	5 →
EAST BOROUGH	KENNETH W. HARRIS	7 →
VOTE FOR ONE	EARL D. McEDITH	8 →
WEST BOROUGH	WILLIAM A. GREAR	10 →
VOTE FOR ONE

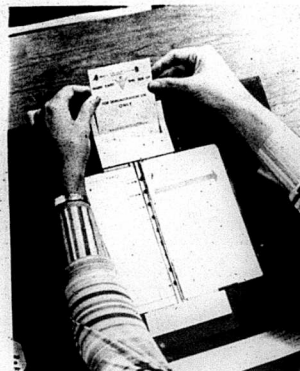

THE VOTING STARTS when the voter (represented here by Mrs. Bramlett) receives a ballot from a poll worker (Mrs. Boglioli).

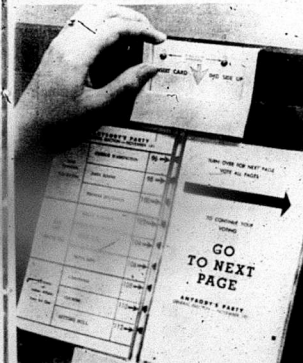

THE VOTOMATIC is demonstrated during the next series of pictures by Mrs. Bramlett, shown here inserting her ballot into the Votomatic.

STEP 1

USING BOTH HANDS, slide the ballot card all the way into the Vote Recorder.

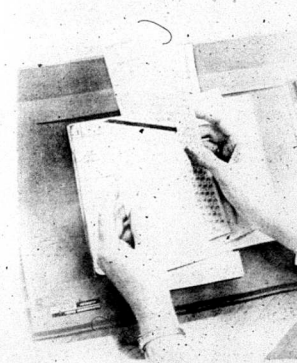

STEP 2

BE SURE THE TWO HOLES at the top of the card fit over the two red pins on the Vote Recorder.

STEP 3

TO VOTE, hold the Punch straight up and push down through the card for each of your choices. Vote all pages. Use the punch provided. Do not use pen or pencil.

STEP 4

AFTER VOTING, slide the card out of the Vote Recorder and place it under the flap of the write-in envelope. If you make a mistake, ask for another ballot.

STEP 5

TAKE THE COMPLETED BALLOT to the poll worker by the exit. The poll worker will tear off the stub from the ballot without opening the envelope. The voter will then deposit the ballot into the box. That finishes the voting process.

With our periods of wet, rainy weather, many people have noticed a tremendous buildup of various diseases of their ornamental plants and lawns. Many times the foliage may become spotted or you may even have large areas of them die rather suddenly. These various types of diseases spread quite rapidly with the type weather conditions we are having and certainly need to be controlled before extensive damage is done to your plants.

Most diseases on the leaves start out as circular or sometimes irregular shaped spots which will be yellowish green initially and then change to brown as the tissue dies. Many times there will be a number of spots on a single leaf and as these enlarge they will meet and form larger areas.

On stems many times symptoms may be less obvious but generally there will also be discolored places where the bark may be cracking or splitting and, of course, any openings invite additional problems from borer insects.

Symptoms of damage to the roots include a lightening of the healthy green color, a wilting of the plant, and, in most cases, a development of nutritional problems.

There are a number of ways to combat various types of problems and the sooner one starts the greater the chance they have of saving the plant from permanent damage. The primary fungicides used for foliage diseases would include such things as Maneb, Captain, Daconil, Dithane M-45, Copper, and systemic like Benlate. These chemicals are also very effective against stem and some root diseases. Best control for root rot, however, is a drench of such things as Captain, Truban, Thiram and Fermate. These chemicals, to be effective, have to be applied uniformly over the affected parts of the plant. This means you have to have an adequate type of sprayer that will give you good, even coverage throughout all portions of the foliage and stems.

For root diseases chemicals are better applied as a drench to the soil around the plants. This way they are more easily able to reach the affected parts of the plant's root system. Make sure that chemicals are applied when the plant foliage is relatively cool, either early morning or late afternoon. Do not apply sprays to hot foliage since some burning or injury to the plant could occur. Make sure that the chemicals are always applied at the proper concentration since using more than what is recommended could result in damage to your plants. Most garden supply stores have various brand names of fungicides and if you check the labels to see that they contain on of the products mentioned above they should be all right for your use.

To The People of The City of Belle Glade:

As a candidate for re-election, I, KENNETH HARRIS, feel very strongly that the people should be made aware of, and identify a few of the accomplishments your city has experienced during the period I served as your commissioner and how your tax dollar is being spent.

It's impossible to please all the people all the time, but I stand with head held high as I view the growth and value you received from your tax dollar:

- NEW Police Station
- NEW Fire Station
- NEW City Hall started and almost completed.
- NEW Side Walks for Ave. A
- NEW Sewer Lift Station.
- NEW Fire Rescue Vehicle purchased.
- NEW Triple combination Fire Engine purchased.
- NEW Life Support Equipment purchased.
- NEW Health Insurance Program started.
- LAWRENCE WILL Museum opened.
- JUNIOR COLLEGE approved and started.
- REHABILITATION of old sewer plant.
- HIGHWAY 80 thru town started and almost completed.
- TWO plus million dollar Marina development.
- PURCHASED 10 acres recreational site.
- REMODELING of Country Club: New char-broiler and rehabilitated air conditioning system.
- FOUR new sub-divisions processed.
- SUGAR sub-division West completed and lots now on sale.
- VERY strong and vital Civil Defense Plan prepared.
- APPROVED Duda road water line loop, Hooker Highway water line loop and extending water line to Rardin Park.
- ADOPTED Major Life Insurance Policy for all city employees.
- FULLY supported a 59 plus police department which answered approximately 27,000 calls during a 12 month period.
- APPROVED a permanent 3 man walking Police Force.

Many other accomplishments were made and many others shall continue to be made. Agreeably the wheels of government turn slow at times but I shall never stop trying to improve our environment with strong fiscal and respondent city government.

The above accomplishments were a combined effort of all FIVE of your City Commissioners and I am deeply grateful, I was able to participate in a small way.

The accomplishments were made possible thru the combined team effort of the City Commission and the many dedicated people who work for the City of Belle Glade.

And I thank GOD each day—I can call Belle Glade my Home Town!!

Your vote September 13th, and your continued support thru out the coming year is sincerely appreciated.

Major storm water management program

SFWMD applies for water control operations

The South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) is applying for permits from the Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) for operation of all structures which discharge water into Lake Okeechobee according to SFWMD Public Relations Director Larry Nunn.

"This will be the first application for a DER permit from a major storm water management system," Nunn said. "Up until this time the DER has concentrated its permitting efforts in the area of sewage treatment plant discharges."

"Although the standards for protecting receiving waters is the same for treated sewage and for storm runoff," he said, "this is the first time the DER will be applying these standards to non-point source water discharges."

In deciding to apply for the permits, the SFWMD board of directors noted that Lake Okeechobee's wellbeing has been the concern of the district since its creation in 1949.

The district has conducted, or has contracted for, most of the in-depth, scientific studies which have been made regarding the Lake and the DER will be using much of this scientific background to evaluate the permit application.

"We were only requested to apply for a permit for three of our structures on the southern rim of the Lake," explained WMD Executive Director Jack Maloy. "We could see that this could be just the beginning though, so we decided to take the initiative, consider the Lake as the receiving body for all of these structures, and make application for all the inflow points at one time."

This includes a minimum of 14 water control structures.

The issue of the DER permit arose from a citizen complaint to the DER that the District was discharging water into the Lake without a permit.

Such complaints from private groups or individuals are provided for in the state's major pollution control legislation, the Florida Environmental Protection Act. The complaint forces the DER to take action when a citizen feels it has been lax in regulating a potential pollution source.

Maloy said only one area will require action to bring it in line with pollution control standards. This is the Taylor Creek-Nubbin Slough area on the northern shore of the Lake.

The district will be applying for a temporary operating permit for that location, satisfying the need to make an application but giving the district time to work on solving the phosphorus problems which have been identified there. Maloy estimated that it might take six months to a year to find a workable solution.

Petition drive receives support

By Bill Gunter
Insurance Commissioner

Box 20285, Tallahassee, Florida, 32304.

He will be happy to send you copies of the petition or informational material on the proposed amendment. He would be even happier to place your name on a list of volunteers to help circulate the petition in your county.

As I've said before, this move is a "people's amendment" to the Constitution, an approach which permits the people themselves to side-step the politicians and lobbyists and take the driver's seat toward fundamental and meaningful insurance reform.

Its success will depend on the support received from citizens throughout the state. This support includes signatures - some 254,000 are needed - contributions to help finance expenses of the petition campaign, and public participation in circulating the petitions and urging your neighbors to take a stand.

"We fully expect the FAIR Amendment to result in savings of some 30 percent - $214 million - in automobile insurance premiums, however. That's a small investment for such a significant return."

I expect this to be a long and difficult task which will be bitterly opposed by the same vested beneficiaries of the status quo who fought so hard against similar reform measures in the last legislative session.

I feel that it's my duty to take this question to the people, however. They are the ones who have to pay today's soaring insurance rates and they deserve the opportunity to make their own choices.

If you have any questions or wish to voice your opinion on any subject, please write to "Straight From Bill Gunter," Suite LL 25, Capitol, Tallahassee, Florida 32304.

To the citizens of Belle Glade

As a taxpayer there is little you can do to halt the increase in your light bills, phone bills and food bills, but if you feel as I do, there are some changes you can make.

You can get out and vote on September 13 for a CHANGE. For a year-round City Commissioner who is concerned about where and how your tax dollars are being spent.

I, Earl Meredith, am asking for your support and vote on Sept. 13.

Dream becomes reality with opening of school

BELLE GLADE—Mrs. Earlyne Riley Harrell will be opening a school for small children, two to five years of age, Monday Sept. 12.

Registration has been scheduled Thursday Sept. 7 and Friday Sept. 8 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the La Petite Learning Center, Inc. located at 554 S.W. 2nd St. Belle Glade, across from the New City Hall Complex in McDonald Park.

Mrs. Harrell's dream for several years has been to own her own school for pre-school aged children. This dream became an obsession with her when her daughters and children of her friends could not attend local federally funded day care centers because they did not meet the criteria to qualify for their children to attend.

This was frustrating because arrangements for relatives and neighbors had to be made to keep their children and they were not exposed to an environment which permitted them to utilize maximally their abilities to the highest degree to commensurate with their levels of development.

Mrs. Harrell said that she has gathered her ideas, the ideas of other educators, theorists, and practitioners in trying to develop effective means for helping children in our community to grow in their own unique learning styles.

La Petite Learning Center, Inc. will not be just a baby sitting service, said Mrs. Harrell. Daily the staff will be prepared to develop the following tasks:

Acquiring a sense of trust and in self and others, developing healthy concepts of self, learning to give and receive affection, identifying with own sex, achieving skills in motor coordination, learning to be a family member groups, beginning to learn physical and social realities, beginning to distinguish right and wrong and to respect rules and authority, learning to understand and use language, learning personal care and learning pre-readiness skills for academics when ready.

Mrs. Harrell said, the staff's developmental task will be to help to develop the whole child. The task also will prepare the students to develop themselves to be challenged by intellectual and cognitive experiences carefully designed to prepare him for the exciting world of reading and the academic endeavors that lie immediately ahead in the regular grades of the elementary school.

"La Petite Learning Center, Inc. is the Working Parent's Dream and The Ultimate in Early Education," said Mrs. Harrell.

La Petite offers a spacious facility, small groups instruction, lunches, snacks, cultural experiences, fully licensed, flexible schedule, reasonable rates, quality instructors and program for skill readiness.

Mrs. Harrell owner and consultant is a native of Central Florida, Winter Garden. She is the wife of Freddie Harrell, Counselor at Palm Beach Junior College Glades, Center. They are the parents of two daughters Nikole and Nikitis Harrell.

Mrs. Harrell received her B.A. degree in French, Spanish and English from Florida A & M University in Tallahassee. She matriculated at Atlanta University in Atlanta, Ga., where she received an outstanding award for her excellence in French.

She came to Belle Glade with hopes of teaching French but worked as a lab technician in the Spanish laboratory at the former Lake Shore Jr. Sr. High School. While matriculating at Florida Atlantic University she received more certification. She has taught English, Reading, English as a second language, slow students and gifted students.

Her master's Degree certification includes Elementary-Intellectual Disabilities and Administration and Supervision.

Her experience in working with exceptional children as a teacher and an administrator for 10 years will be an asset in helping to detect at an early age if children have learning problems and can make recommendations as to what can be done immediately to remediate problems if there are any.

Give your child a headstart. Enroll him at the La Petite Learning Center, Inc. Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. There is a limited enrollment for the school.

CAS sets meeting Wednesday

BELLE GLADE—The Community Action Council(CAC) agency will head the agenda at the Community Services Council meeting on Wednesday, September 14th at the Glades Office Building at 12:30 p.m.

Miss Hattie Fields, Director of CAC in the Glades area, and Miss Mary Walker, Supervisor of the Food Co-op will present the program. Areas touched upon will be needs of older persons, day care programs, transportation and food costs.

The September meeting will be the first of the seasons scheduled meetings and marks the re-convening of the group of agency persons and interested citizens.

This information program is for the benefit of all and is without charge at Community Service Council.

JOSE ANTONIO GARCIA

Hoy hablaré de "LA NECESIDAD DE UN GOBIERNO PARA LA TIERRA". Según las estadísticas en la Tierra podrían vivir 10 veces más personas de las que actualmente viven, pero aun así hay hambre, literal y miles mueren de inanición. Esto no es porque la Tierra en sí no produzca; sino por falta de administración gubernamental. En cuanto a sus administraciones, la Tierra es tan compleja en sus sistemas de gobiernos, que es como una cuerda enredada y con nudos. Encontrar hoy hombres con integridad y definidos en sus convicciones a pesar de las presiones actuales es como encontrar una aguja en un pajar.

Casi todos los gobernantes, empezando por los grandes jefes de las religiones y terminando por los jefes de las tribus africanas son ambiguos e indefinidos en sus discursos o alocuciones. En una rueda de prensa hoy se dice una cosa y la próxima semana se dice otra. Casi todo gobernante sea de izquierda o de derecha pre-fabrica su oratoria no pensando en el beneficio de los pueblos, sino en las consecuencias inmediatas, como resultado de sus declaraciones. Algunos se han convertido en unos

"Cantinflas..." y han hecho una profesión del uso de lo indefinido, el punto suspensivo... la incógnita, neutralizar las cosas, la incertidumbre, y aun la violación de principios. Como consecuencia se ha creado el descontento, desencanto, y la decepción en la ciudadanía a grado tal que cuando surge un nuevo gobernante; la pregunta: "Que cree usted de fulano...?" se hace un estribillo para vergüenza del propio electorado, que mas bien de conocer a su candidato, jugo al azar a ver si con un "cambio..." y como dice el argot chillaba y al fin llegaba el personaje gubernamental tan ansioso, pero algo tan importante y ansioso no llega por una urna electoral y menos de un mundo tan sucio e hipocrita como es el mundo de la política.

Hoy el mundo carece de líderes de ideas profundas y definidas hasta la muerte, por eso es que aun Hitler, que fuera un asesino consumado y un errado mas que maniático, es admirado por algunos, solo por el hecho de mantener sus ideas perversas hasta las ultimas consecuencias.

Los tiempos de hombres como Lincoln que gano la presidencia siendo leñador y que respetaba los principios de la Biblia, han quedado atrás, si resucitara se avergonzaria de muchas cosas.

Hoy los tratados de "Paz" y las reuniones a "alto nivel" se efectúan a diario y sus acuerdos de "Paz..." solo duran el corto tiempo en que ambos bandos permanecen reunidos brindando con champagne; de ahí la frase que dijera el poeta: "UN BRINDIS VALE MAS QUE MIL BATALLAS"

Pero hoy la personalidad inquebrantable de Jesucristo aunque ha sido opacada por las religiones con sus tradiciones, surge de las paginas de la Biblia como el hombre perfecto, recto, definido, integro, sin ambages, vigoroso cuando tuvo que serlo, humilde para poner el ejemplo; hiriente contra los hipocritas escribas y fariseos, en silencio cuando estuvo ante gobernantes que lo interrogaban, no por mala educación, No! sino cumpliendo algo que el habia dicho en el Sermón de la montaña: "No echéis vuestras perlas delante de los cerdos, ni des lo santo a los perros, no sea que las reuelen con sus pies y volviéndose sobre vosotros os despedicen". Así Jesús ante una interrogación de parte de Poncio Pilatos guardo silencio y no echo sus "perlas" ante el, que sabiendo inocente no tuvo el valor de declararlo sin culpa.

Jesucristo no fue hombre de: "Hoy verde como las palmas y mañana rojo como el carmesí..." Jesucristo no fue hombre de hoy jurando con la mano sobre la Biblia y mañana mandando hacer bombas para genocidio. Jesucristo no fue hombre de bendecir armas para la guerra y mañana hablar del "amor de Dios" como han hecho muchos líderes religiosos. Jesús no fue hombre de mandar a quemar vivos a los que no creían en el como se hizo con Juan de Arcos y con Miguel Sever.

Jesucristo no vino a "remendar" el "Pantalón viejo" de este mundo, pues el mismo dijo: "No pongas remiendo de tela nueva sobre ropa vieja, pues el remiendo nuevo tira y el roto se hace mayor. Cuando lo quisieron tomar por la fuerza para hacerlo rey, el rehuyo y se fue a la montaña. Jesús no supo lo que fueron "zapatos de charol". Según la profecía hebrea, la justicia habitaba dentro de el como habitaban sus rinones, y no juzgo a nadie por la apariencia y otra de sus maximas fue: "Por sus frutos los conoceréis", por este axioma muchos que estudian la Biblia podran ver que clase de gobernantes tiene el Pajarito Tierra hoy en día.

Jesús dijo: "Mi reino no es de este mundo..." pero si gano un reino por parte de Dios y para ello ha sido nombrado con derecho real, su prueba de merecimiento a la gobernanza de ese Reino fue su integridad hasta la muerte, lo cual aun hoy constituye un ejemplo viviente a toda criatura sobre la Tierra desde el mas encumbrado de los gobernantes hasta el mas humilde de los hombres. Ese Reino de Jesucristo es el que se pide en el Padre Nuestro, y del que hablaremos la semana que viene. Mientras tanto LEA SU BIBLIA, para que sepa como Jesús es el PRINCIPE DE PAZ.
